ORDER

Adopted: January 24, 2003

Released: January 24, 2003

By the Acting Chief, Telecommunications Access Policy Division, Wireline Competition Bureau:

Revised Filing Dates:

Comments Due: February 28, 2003

Reply Comments Due: April 18, 2003

1. On December 12, 2002, the Commission adopted a Report and Order and Second Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (Second Further Notice) seeking comment on further refinements to the revenue-based methodology for assessing and recovering contributions to the federal universal service mechanisms and on specific aspects of three proposals in the record to assess contributions based on the number and capacity of providers' end-user connections to interstate networks.¹ The Second Further Notice stated that interested parties could file comments 30 days after Federal Register publication of the Second Further Notice and reply comments 60 days after such publication. Thirty days after Federal Register publication of the Second Further Notice is January 29, 2003, and 60 days after Federal Register publication is February 28, 2003.² On January 22, 2003, the Consumers Union, Texas Office of Public Utility Counsel, Consumer Federation of America, Appalachian People's Action Coalition, Center for Digital Democracy, Edgemont Neighborhood Coalition and Migrant Legal Action Program (Consumers Union et al.), by their attorneys, the Institute for Public Representation, filed a motion to extend the deadlines for filing comments and reply comments in this proceeding to February 28, 2003, and April 18, 2003, respectively.³ The extension of time also is supported by other parties in this proceeding.⁴

We hereby grant Consumers Union et al.'s request for extension of time to file comments and reply comments. It is the policy of the Commission that extensions of time are not routinely granted.⁵ We find, however, that there is good cause to extend the due dates for filing comments and reply comments to the Second Further Notice. Specifically, Consumers Union et al. seek additional time so that they may consider and evaluate the proposals in the record and develop alternative proposals.⁶ Meaningful participation of Consumers Union et al. in the universal service contribution methodology proceeding is important because their group is one of only a few parties representing the interests of low-income and low-volume consumers in this docket. In the Second Further Notice, the Commission specifically requested comment on ⁶ See Consumers Union et al. Motion at 2. The Institute for Public Representation, a public interest law firm with limited staff, states that it currently is dedicating a large portion of its time and resources to preparing reply comments in the Commission's media ownership proceeding, which are due on February 3, 2003, only five calendar days after the due date for filing comments in this proceeding. See 2002 Biennial Review – Review of the Commission's Broadcast Ownership Rules and Other Rules Adopted Pursuant to Section 202 of the Telecommunications Act of 1996, MM Docket No. 02-277, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (rel. Sep. 23, 2002).

the impact of the proposed contribution methodologies on different user groups.⁷ An extension also will provide parties with additional time to report on the impact of interim measures adopted in the Contribution Methodology Order and Second Further Notice.⁸

Accordingly, we grant Consumers Union et al.'s request. Parties may file comments by February 28, 2003 and reply comments by April 18, 2003. This matter shall continue to be treated as a "permit-but-disclose" proceeding in accordance with the Commission's ex parte rules.⁹ All other requirements discussed in the Second Further Notice remain in effect.
